At the time of publication, it was the only game in existence that combined space opera with game mechanics. At the time, the company was called The Fantasy Flight Games Company. The book was published with a small initial print run to great success. Within a year and a half, the company's Kickstarter campaign succeeded in starting a movement to give the Game a wide release. They then changed their game company name to Fantasy Flight Games. Although the rules are RPG-compatible, it was designed to be a customizable science fiction game of scale. The Scales of Things was designed to be a modular Sci-Fi RPG In this book, the game mechanics: - Hero Points are used to determine actions and abilities -

The Prelude: The Prophecy The Earth is in peril. All people of the world will be wiped out. An earthquake will bury them. The few survivors will be left with a very special gift... the Crystal Shards. The shards, the shard of one of the Earth's strongest, most powerful crystals, have been protected in a Box of Legend. For a thousand years, it was the most powerful weapon in the world. The strongest weapon to defend against the Apocalypse, the Sword of Creation. A sacred symbol, the shards were never handed down, but the chosen Priestesses did use them as they saw fit for the protection of their people. When an earthquake was caused by the Almighty, a Luminous Light was the only thing that protected the most vulnerable people. The shards helped them, and with them, the humans made the world live again. The world had recovered ever since. The story of the world is now over... but the story of the shards had just begun. Your Story: The Final Chapter As the last obstacle to the destruction of the world, you were deemed the only one powerful enough to wield the shard with power. Yet now, the prophecy had been fulfilled, and all the shards are gone. You, a doctor of the human race, become the last protector of the world. You are to be blessed by all the shards to defeat the end of the world. The prophecy of The Millennium was over... Humans will never die again... But, this is for you... Brink of life and the death This is the story of the last protector of the world... You, the last doctor of the world, will be the only one powerful enough to use all the shards in the world to fight the apocalypse. Sudden earthquakes will soon take place, the end of the world is only a moment away... You've been chosen by the shards, now... You must choose how you use this last power. Do you use all the shards to fight the apocalypse, or do you use them to end the apocalypse? Do you use all the shards to fight the apocalypse, or do you use them to end the apocalypse? You must save the world. Sudden earthquakes will soon take place, the end of the world is only a moment away... You've been chosen by the shards,

What's new:

^ ♥ I must add that this isn't intended to be avowedly sexual - if anything the white features on my body provide a "fresh" contrast to the red binder - co-identally the T-shirt has a raki design on it by comparison~ Do you like this

and what else have you seen re the BlazBlue Collaboration costume? Feel free to share! Sticker Designs ... I haven't the summer of time and effort. Although I've wanted to delve into the web of costumes ever since Brutal [White Day] was released - I cannot seem to put aside time for it at the moment~ I had a time crunch with the doodle DT. This bad boy is now done. Might whip up a couple more types - anyone who wants a doodle that's readily available just msg me~ This one is all about the wings - I like how they moved so that they're positioned more along the sides of the players legs. I've had a real neurotic obsession with the characters design for these stickers. How do you like them? This is a picture that I like: A neat way to see what an item will look like on all nine fighters would require nine doodles. I know how keen you are to see what some of your favorite character designs and fighters would look like with the Collaboration's official stickers - but currently they only have doodle designs done for the Starter Edition designs. I've always liked the starters (I even used the lone Starter Edition 9 character, Ashe as my avatar when I was on my first time on Nash Central. - In my defense Nash Central had replaced ICQ). * If you don't recall my AV get this * So awesome. I love it. For those who are fiddling around on the sprite screen - here's the original design document. You can bring up the sheet in an ordinary browser at this link. - ~ Return the favor and Q: Javascript - Uncaught SyntaxError: Unexpected token EXPORT So I'm trying to make this simple demo of 5 red balls bouncing around the screen, and that's fine
