Multimedia About this page In the past, there was a variety of audio and visual media that was in use, many of which are not necessarily compatible with current technology. A growing number of virtual reality technologies is part of the Virtual Reality movement that want to immerse users in a simulated world, but don't want them to have to buy all new media to view the virtual environments. Instead they want to use existing media sources that have been much sought after technology for a variety of reasons, it is the next great frontier in technology and entertainment. It has been called everything from the new reality, to the next revolution, and more. It is no accident that it is up there in the air with the Star Trek's technology. It is coming quickly and in a variety of forms. VR Virtual Reality (VR) is not a new technology but rather a new way to view and process information, and today there are a number of new technology developments coming up that are expected to play a big role in VR's future. VR is to be found in a number of unusual locations. It is not just being used for gaming, it is also being used for marketing, medical and education. Interactive TV Interactive TV is the opposite of VR, where a user interacts with the environment instead of viewing it. Traditional TV, with a remote control in your hands is now being challenged with things like tablets and game consoles.
