Highlights include: Post-Match Speed and Player Movement: “HyperMotion” technology is used to have players move exactly like they would on the pitch following a match. More realistic ball physics and ball movement, added physical feeling to player movement. Unrivaled Player Physics: The physics engine used in FIFA matches, Frostbite, has been evolved to deliver new and realistic-feeling player movement. Players will feel more balanced, faster and have more response during collisions. Pace of Play: New player movement animations coupled with increased ball speeds make for more realistic-looking and playing experience. Increased Safety: New augmented reality defensive tools help players make the right decision during challenging defensive situations. Improved Authentic Movement: The new “Human Challenge” animation system uses the player data captured during real-life matches to have players movement feel more intuitive and authentic. Improved Player Modeling: The new player models with more individualized characteristics improve the shape, proportion, and fluidity of each player. Improved Goalkeepers: Players need to use their hands during saves, to catch the ball. Now, goalkeeper models can reach and catch the ball naturally. FIFA 22 will be available for the Xbox One and Windows 10 PC via Origin. The game will also be available on PlayStation 4 and PlayStation 4 Pro via PS4 system or digitally on Nintendo Switch via the Nintendo eShop.

Q: How can I download a web page's Javascript and then run it in Node.js? I want to download a webpage's javascript code and then run the code within Node.js. I believe both WebAssembly and Embedding wasm.js might be suitable for this purpose but I am not sure how to do it. A: node-webrtc has a module called wasm-js that allows you to load and run wasm scripts using the WASI API. The code module uses the WebAssembly API.

Q: SQL Server 2008 Management Studio doesn't show backups I have installed SQL Server 2008 Management Studio Express on a Win 2008 PC. After that, I was able to start Management Studio Express successfully. However, I couldn't find any backup file in any of the database. I also noticed that there's no backup stored in the SQL Server. Is there any way to fix this problem? Is there any particular procedure I should perform
