AutoCAD is a commercial computer-aided design (CAD) and drafting software application. Developed and marketed by Autodesk, AutoCAD was first released in December 1982 as a desktop app running on microcomputers with internal graphics controllers. Before AutoCAD was introduced, most commercial CAD programs ran on mainframe computers or minicomputers, with each CAD operator (user) working at a separate graphics terminal. AutoCAD is also available as mobile and web apps. In terms of licensing AutoCAD is offered in two levels. After you have paid the required yearly fee you can use AutoCAD for the number of hours you work in the year. If you use more hours than are allowed, the license becomes a personal one which means you pay only for the hours you use. The license for a company is the sum of all the hours of each individual who has an active license.

AutoCAD: License Costs AutoCAD offers two types of license. The low cost license is for Personal use and has a yearly fee of $399. The high cost license is for company use and has a yearly fee of $1,999. You can purchase a license from the AutoCAD website or you can pay a visit to your local Autodesk dealer. AutoCAD prices vary between $399 and $1,999 depending on your location and business needs.
